

West Devon Hotel Wins National Recognition

The Arundell Arms Fishing School has been recognised by The Field magazine as the best in the UK. The Field in its May edition reviewed the best fly fishing schools in the UK and listed its top 10 schools and placed the Arundell Arms in the top spot.

The Arundell Arms hotel at Lifton in West Devon has been teaching fishing on its 20 miles of the river Tamar and its tributaries for over 75 years. It has 2 full time instructors (David Pilkington and Tim Smith) as well other qualified instructors that it uses at peak season. It has taught tens of thousands of people of all ages to fish and introduced thousands to what has become a lie long hobby or passion. All equipment and modern tackle is provided on its inclusive 1, 2 and 4 day courses.

Managing Director Adam Fox-Edwards said, "It is wonderful that even after so long being a fishing school, the team continue to teach at the highest standard. This is a real credit to David and Tim and reflects on their energy and passion for teaching as well as the beautiful rivers of the Tamar Valley with which we are blessed. It is a great pleasure for all of us to introduce newcomers to the sport."

The Arundell Arms fishing school welcomes students of all abilities from complete beginner to experienced angler. The hotel's fishing is available to residents and non residents on a day ticket basis from £25 a day and all inclusive one day beginners introductory courses are from £195 a day.

For more information contact:

Adam Fox-Edwards

Managing Director

01566784 666